This catalog reads like the “who’s who” in Chows, during the heyday of the breed’s popularity in America as well as England. The show was held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in NYC. What a spectacular event this must have been! Reading the Officer list you will recognize all the names from previous ChowTales posts. You can use the SEARCH bar at <https://chowtales.com> and type in any of the names to find all articles these famous breeders and their dogs.

CHOW STANDARD

ADOPTED 1925

HEAD—Large and massive, with broad, flat skull, well filled in the eyes, moderate stop, proudly carried, with character scowl.

MUZZLE—Short in comparison to length of skull; broad from tip to end of nose, and of great depth. The lips should be full overhanging.

TEETH—Strong and level.

NOSE—Large, broad and black in color.

TONGUE—A blue-black. The inside of the mouth should be the same color.

EYES—Dark, deep-set, of moderate size, and almond shaped.

EARS—Small, pointed, stiffly carried. They should be placed well apart, on the top of skull, and set with a slight forward tilt.

BODY—Short, compact, well ribbed up, and let down in the flank.

NECK—Strong, full, set well on shoulders.

SHOULDERS—Muscular, slightly sloping.

CHEST—Broad, deep and muscular.

BACK—Short, straight and strong.

LOINS—Broad, deep and powerful.

TAIL—Tail set well up and carried closely to back, following line of spine at start.

FORE-LEGS—Perfectly straight, with heavy bone and upright pasterns.

HIND-LEGS—Straight hocked, muscular and heavy boned.

FEET—Compact, round and cat-like.

COAT—Abundant, dense, straight and outstanding; rather even in texture, with a soft wooly undercoat. In the smooth-coat variety, the top coat should be of about one and a half in length.

COLOR—Any clear color, solid throughout, or, with lighter shades on ruff, tail and breeching.

SIZE—Chows should be massive and well proportioned.

GENERAL APPEARANCE—Lion-headed, scowling, compact, muscular, short-coupled, dignified, and powerful, with heavy standing coat.

DISQUALIFYING POINTS—Drop ears; tongue red, pink or vividly spotted; nose spotted or distinctly other color than black, except in blue colored Chows, which may have solid or slate colored noses.

CHOW BREEDERS' TROPHY

OLD-TIME CHOW HISTORY

---

Mr. Charles F. Richardson of the Mia Cassitas Kennels, E. Cajou, Calif., writes the following very interesting letter to Dog Topics:

CHOWS IN ENGLAND IN 1781

Thinking the other evening that I would sit awhile and read in the swing chair on the porch, during the twilight—which is all too short here in the South—I took down a book from the shelf in the old den, and drifted out. It was the "Natural History of Selbourne" by Gilbert White. As is well known it is made up of a series of letters which were first published in 1789. In Letter LVIII, written about 1781, to my astonishment I read the following:

"My near neighbor, a young gentleman in the service of the East India Company has brought home a dog and a bitch of the Chinese breed from Canton; such as are fattened in that country for the purpose of being eaten; they are about the size of a moderate spaniel; of a pale yellow color, with coarse bristling hairs on the backs; sharp, upright ears, and peaked heads, which give them a very fox-like appearance. Their hind legs are unusually straight without any bend at the hock or ham, to such a degree as to give them an awkward gait when they trot. When they are in motion their tails are curved high over their backs like those of some hounds, and have a bare place each on the outside from the tip midway, that does not seem to be matter of accident, but somewhat singular. Their eyes are jet black, small, and piercing; the inside of their lips and mouths of the same color, and their tongues blue. The bitch has a dew-claw on each hind leg; the dog has none . . . the dogs in South America are dumb; but these bark much in a short thick manner, like foxes; and have a surly, savage demeanor like their ancestors, which are not domesticated, but bred up in sties where they are fed for the table with rice-meal and other farinaceous food. These dogs, having been taken on board as soon as weaned could not learn much from their dam, yet they did not relish flesh when they came to England. In the islands of the Pacific Ocean the dogs are bred up on vegetables, and would not eat flesh when offered them by our circumnavigators."

To me, all this is most interesting. In all my reading of Chow literature I have never happened to come across this reference and though I may be mistaken, it occurred to me it might be worthwhile bringing to the attention of the Chow student and fancier.

HOW TO FEED THE DOG

Puppies, when four weeks old, should be fed on a little soup made from our "PERFECT CONDITION CANNED BOILED MEAT." After the puppies are weaned, add to the soup a small quantity of our fine "PUPPY MEAL," giving a light feed of this three or four times a day. Be sure and not overfeed.

For the general feeding of grown dogs, use either "CERO-MEATO," "K. F. S. BISCUITS," or "COD-LIVER OIL VEGETABLE BISCUITS." Change occasionally from one to the other.

When more cooked MEAT is required for brood bitches and hard working dogs, add more or less of our "PERFECT CONDITION CANNED BOILED MEAT." All our goods are packed to suit the convenience of both large and small buyers.

Give our DOG FOODS a fair trial, taking into account every detail such as expense, time, labor, convenience and most important of all, watch the improved condition of your dogs.

Let us send you our prices and a five-pound box of samples free, with booklet "HOW TO FEED THE DOG." This will convince you of the high quality of our DOG FOODS.

Note that there are a lot of trophies for blues. The blue was not considered a desirable color when the breed first came over to America. Solid Red and Black were considered the most proper. The 1920's brought about a big fad of breeding for blues and some lovely ones were produced, but then the fad disappeared as fast as it came.

The dog above was entered in this show in the American Bred Any Other Color class, and later went on to become a Champion and winner of the 1934 National Specialty

BEST OF WINNERS. No. 45

BEST CHOW CHOW. No. 60

The dog below Ch. Son of Min T'Sing (Armband #60) was the Best of Breed winner at this 1928 Specialty. He was one of the top winners in the history of our breed as well as being one of the 5 foundation sires in America. This dog is behind many of our chow's pedigrees of today.

WITH
Cooper's
Pine Oil Disinfectant

Because it is an efficient antiseptic, disinfectant and germicide with a pleasing odor instead of a Cresol or Phenol odor common to so many disinfectants.

You can safely use COOPER'S PINE OIL DISINFECTANT for cleaning, deodorizing and disinfecting houses, pens and kennels as well as for washing and dipping dogs and other animals. It will cleanse the animal, give life and lustre to the coat, assist in keeping the skin clean and healthy, kill germs and destroy offensive odors. Its use helps prevent colds, distemper and other diseases, when diluted one part to 40 parts of water.

Gallon cans, each $4.00

5-gallon cans, each $16.00
