From the Columbus Ohio estate of Mr H Ray Burba.

All photos restored by © Sandra Miller 2015

I acquired these photos from a vendor who had a huge collection of images from this estate with many many featuring these children growing up with their chow. I'm still working on another dozen or so photos I need to add to this album but this is what I have so far. This is a treasure in my opinion to see how important this dog was to the family that they had the chow pose with the children on so many special occasions

Today we see so many photos of DOGS ONLY... but I see very few of humans WITH their chows being posted. This charming series of photos should put a fire under us all to take plenty of similar pix WITH our dogs as they (and our families) grow up
