

The Chow-Chow Dog, Lodmore Sen-ko,

The Property of Mrs. Ennis, The Firs, Bromham, Wilts.

Lodmore Sen-ko was shown for the first time at the Kennel Club show last October, then aged 7 months, where he won, under Mrs. Faudel Phillips, 2nd in junior (dogs under 18 months), a strong class of 13; 2nd novice, 1st special limit, and reserve in limit. And was awarded the 25-guinea Corinthian cup, and 5-guinea challenge cup for best Chow, bred by exlost all his puppy coat, and the tips of the hair are light around the head, but he will be a brilliant red, and has an extraordinarily dense coat. We cannot do better than quote the critique of the judge, Mrs. Faudel Phillips:—"Lodmore Senko, a charming puppy, seven months old, should do well in the future if he gets over his nervousness; he has hibitor. At the Kensington Canine Society's show, at the Alexandra Palace, under Miss Lawton, he won 2nd in puppy class; and at the L.K.A. members' show, under Mrs. F. B. Armstrong, he won 2nds in junior and special limit, and 1st in limit, red dogs, a good list of wins in the first two months of show life.

[Photo]

[Edmunds & Co.]

He is a son of Mrs. Ennis' grand imported dog Lodmore Mandarin ex Lodmore Susan, a winning bitch, bred by Mrs. Ennis. At present Sen-ko has not the correct Chow expression, and tiny well-placed ears so much needed in many Chows shown now-a-days."

Mrs. Ennis has lately been adding extra kennels, and has a large enclosed yard, in which the young puppies can scamper; and all the kennels have adjoining small runs, covered in except in front, so that her dogs live practically in the open except at night—the soundest principle to ensure good health.