MR DUDLEY has long been one of the keenest admirers of this old and fascinating breed, and little wonder, for only the best are kept in his select stud in the Midlands. It has ever been his rule to use only those dogs that have not only proved to be the best of their time, but must also approximate to a fixed type of great character and quality that only a real student of the breed can acquire. Thus it came about that Mulfra Sarahb, as here depicted, winner of 2 C.C.'s, was secured from the late Mr Scriven (who imported him from U.S.A.). That it was an astute move by Mr Dudley has been fully borne out, for the latest crop of youngsters by him will assuredly add further lustre to his already acknowledged prowess in this connection.

There is at present a further litter by him, now about 9 weeks old, some of which will be disposed of, and prospective buyers will do well to inspect them for their dam is by Int. Ch. Rochow Brigadier, a very alluring combination of blood.

A strong, vigorous, and potent sire, Mulfra Sarahb will serve a few bitches at 5 guineas.

MULFRA SARAHB

1935

Lo-Wen-Rufus, his son, has a great future if looks count for anything. In colour he is a deep red with massive skull, beautifully placed ears, dense harsh coat, and the correct scowl. He has already done remarkably well and run up quite a sequence of wins, whilst as a sire he particularly appeals where bitches fail in bone substance and texture of coat. At a nominal fee of 3 guineas he should command plenty of patrons.

Then there is Shinee Coatee, a massive, upstanding brother of the above and full of quality. He is red with cream shadings, and has magnificent plumage. He, also, is at stud for a little while at 3 guineas.

With these stud dogs available no one need have any regrets for visiting these kennels.

As Vice-President of the Midland Chow Chow Club and K.C. representative, Mr Dudley is often called upon to adjudicate while his great experience is always available to those who ask it, and visitors are always welcome to look round his kennels.
